Operation of cleanrooms and 24-hour service availability

For the next five years HOCHTIEF Facility Management will be handling technical and infrastructural facility management at the Nuremberg development and production facility of the automotive industry supplier, Continental. The two companies have just concluded a contract to that effect. It was agreed that no details of the contract value would be disclosed.

Continental's activities include the development and production of electronic controls for car and truck drive systems at its facility in Nuremberg. With 24-hour service availability, HOCHTIEF will be guaranteeing the provision of complex technical facility management along the production and development chain. This also includes the operation of cleanrooms. The company will furthermore be providing the facility with pressurized air, and controlling, maintaining and servicing the in-house technical plant. The infrastructural facility management services that HOCHTIEF will be handling include, for example, waste management.
